

WHO IS WOMAN ?

- yash

She is not the one,
who should be treated as a sin
She is the one,
who is greater than sun.
She is a woman.

She is not the one,
who is weaker than men
She is the one,
who makes men stronger than anyone
She is a woman.

She is not the one,
who has no right to learn.
She is the one,
who teaches us how to hold a pen
She is a woman.

She is not the one,
who has no right to born.

She is the one,
whose womb is birthplace for everyone
She is a woman.

She is not the one,
who should be burn with one
She is the one,
who often burns to feed everyone.
She is a woman.

So,break the gender bias
and make earth better than heaven .
Because she is the one who is greater than anyone.
She is a woman.

Summary :-

Stanza 1 tells that we are treating womans as a result of sin but they are actually greater than sun.

Stanza 2 refers that we are treating womans as a weak persons but they are actually making men so strong that no one can't match them including them.

Stanza 3 refers that we are arguing that womans should be permitted only for kitchen and not for learning anything but they are actually. one who teaches how to hold a pen they starts the journey of education.

Stanza 4 teaches that we are treating that a girls child don't have right to born but we are forgetting that everyone are born from their mother's womb who is a woman.

Stanza 5 tells we are throwing woman into fire along with their dead husbands forcefully but we are forgetting that they are often burning their own hands while preparing food for everyone in home.

Stanza 6 teaches us the world without gender bias will look better than heaven. We should treat woman equally and even more than woman as they are the greatest creatures known.

This poem is the comparison between the treatment of woman in society and the greatness of woman. that society is forgetting while treating like that.

ABOUT THE WRITER :-

This poem was written by H.yasvanth N210368 on the occasion of women's day

E-CRUSH
CONTENT WRITING CLUB

